

FACTSHEET

Performance Returns

The MontLake Advent Global Partners UCITS Fund returned 0.38% (net of fees) for the month of March (USD Institutional Class Founder Pooled).

Investment Objective & Strategy

The Fund seeks capital appreciation over the medium to long term utilizing investments in corporate debt, equities and derivatives. Advent applies a relative value multi-strategy approach to investing in credit and volatility markets with an event-driven bias. The strategy seeks to generate attractive risk-adjusted returns by exploiting idiosyncratic volatility, event driven and credit opportunities. The strategy employs rigorous fundamental research coupled with a robust trading platform to capture compelling asymmetric opportunities. The Fund is agnostic to any single sub-strategy and invests globally with a focus on mispriced volatility and event driven opportunities while capitalizing on market dislocations.

Monthly Commentary

March proved to be another tumultuous month for the markets with the S&P 500 Index and the MSCI World Index tumbling 2.5% and 2.2%, respectively. Just as markets were beginning to recover from February's downturn, US President Trump announced protective tariffs on steel and aluminum imports aimed at China. Later in the month, the White House announced a temporary exemption for the European Union and other nations. The trade friction and protectionist rhetoric continued throughout the month resulting in elevated levels of volatility. Credit spreads were also negatively impacted and widened during the month as the ICE BofA Merrill Lynch US High Yield Index returned -0.6% for March. The increase in market volatility caused a flight to safety and a flattening of the yield curve as the yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury note fell 13 basis points during the month to 2.74%.

The portfolio was resilient in March and generated steady positive performance. The convertible asset class displayed its defensive characteristics and outperformed many other asset classes amid a significant equity market sell-off, widening credit spreads and rising interest rates. Our main strategies of monetizing cheap volatility and exploiting relative value event driven situations continued to outperform. A top monthly performer in the month was an US financial company while a detractor was a global technology company that temporarily traded lower due the US/China trade war rhetoric. The Fund is constructed to generate uncorrelated returns by exploiting idiosyncratic volatility, capitalizing on market inefficiencies and identifying undervalued event trades. We expect 2018 to be a banner year for convertible issuance as the implementation of the US tax reform will play a central role in leading convertible market returns and primary issuance higher.
